

JINGLE BELL

Del Mar, California

By Barbara Walker

If you live in the western half of the United States and didn't attend this show, you missed one of the best shows of the decade! It was a wonderful time all rolled into four days of beautiful San Diego sunshine, incredible hospitality and a marvelous facility. Having a show in December is out of the question for most parts of the country. But in southern California, it's the perfect time of year. Lance Bennett and Scott Hickey outdid themselves producing a terrific show. It just gets better and better every year. "Details" are the secret. Every corner is micromanaged to perfection.

The 8th annual Jingle Bells broke all previous records for number of entries, nice horses and good times. Thirty-seven barns attended from all corners of the West Coast. It was held at Del Mar Horse Park, just north of San Diego. Four days of daytime classes only, left evenings for lots of partying, sampling the fabulous seaside restaurants in the area, or just plain resting up for the next day.

Christmas trees trimmed in show ribbons decorated the arena and the grounds. The barns all went to extremes with beautiful Christmas decorations. Christmas carolers in period costumes strolled the grounds serenading the exhibitors. Coloring, art, essay and judging contests for the junior exhibitors kept them occupied and out of trouble. The social calendar was amazing: Thursday evening was reserved for a private trainer-only party at an exquisite home not far from the show grounds. They could run away from clients and the world in general, for a relaxing evening of good food and company, before tackling the next three days of the show. An enormous white tent, next to the arena, housed the many other parties. Friday afternoon, after the show, was the traditional "High Tea n' Tinis Party" with all the accoutrements of the English tradition. The birthday party of four-year-old Olivia Jarrell, was the motive behind the junior exhibitor party Saturday afternoon. Saturday evening, after the show, the 18th annual Pacific Coast Horse Show Circuit awards banquet and the California ASHA Pleasure Horse awards were the showcase of the dinner party. The pièce de résistance was the Sunday morning brunch with omelets made to order for everyone.

Each year at this show, a beautiful trophy is presented to the most outstanding junior exhibitor at the show, showing an American Saddlebred horse, chosen by the judge. The recipient of this award may or may not necessarily have won the most top ribbons or have the best horse. He or she should stand out in the judge's mind to exhibit the best horsemanship, sportsmanship and love of the sport. The 2008 recipient of the award was Patrick Webber, from Tucson, Ariz.

FIVE-GAITED

The Steenkamps cornered the open five-gaited market showcasing Teri Yount's big gelding, Desert's Double Memories. Janie piloted him to a win in the open class and Jani did the honors taking the junior/limit class. Bill Tomin showcased Walterway's Kickin Assets to a win in the three-year-old five-gaited class. In the amateur division, Undulata Prophet, with owner, Gail Hooker was the grand champion. Jacqueline Beck catch rode Cheyenne Banks-Diaz's darling gelding Naughty Bisquotti to the blue in the amateur five-gaited class. Cheyenne was sidelined for the duration of the show with a broken wrist. Anne Speck, trainer. Special Vintage, with owner Julianne Rafferty, topped both the junior exhibitor five-gaited qualifying and the stake. David Blevins, trainer.

THREE-GAITED

Jennifer Sandefur's sparkling

gelding, I'm High N Mighty, was a star taking the three-gaited open and stake with David Blevins. Teri Yount guided Florenza to victory passes in both the amateur three-gaited class and the stake for Hetherington/Yount. Julianne Rafferty was back in the winner's circle with Absolute Courage for Julie Streitfeld in the junior exhibitors' class and the stake.

FINE HARNESS

Kalarama's On A Roll, with owner, Jack Reich took the victory passes in both the fine harness open and the open stake. Bill Tomin, trainer. The multi-champion, CH The Savoy, with Keith Roberts for Seaview Farm was the amateur fine harness open and stake winner. Barbara Beamer, trainer.

PARK

CH The Full Monty with owner, Julie DeVault, went home with three blues in the open park, and the amateur park and amateur park stake. Bill Tomin, trainer. Love and Luck, with owner, Michelle McVey topped the open park championship.

PARK PLEASURE

The adorable Peanut Butter, with Eric Antman for Carolyn Melka topped both the park pleasure open and the stake. Matthew Roberts guided Amy Dru's pretty bay mare, Dance By Design, to wins in the junior/limit park pleasure open and stake.

SHOW PLEASURE

Tip Me Do, with owner, Debbie Tomin, topped the list in the five-gaited show pleasure open and championship. Bill Tomin, trainer. Lisa Baytos offered a top presentation with her entry Sim Sala Bim, taking home the blue in the adult three-gaited show pleasure championship. Nani Barnes, trainer. Mackenzie Lyttle catch-rode Ina Brown for Dian and Ronnie McNab, to win the adult three-gaited qualifying class. Anne Speck, trainer. The perennial champion, CH X's and O's was busy carrying home trophies in the juvenile three-gaited show pleasure open and stake with Caroline Cherry for Zazen Ranch. Jim and Helen Cherry, trainers. Great to see Robin Wilhite back in the show ring after a long hiatus. She guided Katie Richardson's The Pacific Ambassador to wins in the show pleasure driving class and the stake. Greg Carstens, trainer.

COUNTRY PLEASURE

Jacqueline Beck piloted Spotlight Dancer to the tricolor in the adult country pleasure championship for Louise Eversman. Anne Speck, trainer. Makin A Splash, with owner, Amy Dru topped the adult country pleasure class. Matt Roberts, trainer. Sultan's Sarah Mariah, with Hannah Francis for Cathy Cartwright posed for victory pictures in both the junior exhibitor country pleasure class and the stake. Robb Wallen, trainer. Rarely defeated, Prowler's Keepsake continued his winning streak taking both the country pleasure driving class and the stake with owner, Amy Vicker Smith. Tara Weber, trainer.

WESTERN

The lovely bay junior gelding, Buttoned Down has transitioned beautifully this year from park/park pleasure to western, with perfect manners. Owner, Grace Arnold, guided him to the western pleasure championship. Trained by Nicole Johnson. CH Like Thunder took both the open western pleasure class and the Shatner western pleasure class with owner, Michele Macfarlane.

PARADE

The parade classes were spectacular, with all their silver trapping in the San Diego sunshine. The colors were magnificent. Leading the beautiful group, Kathie Dunn's wonderful rescue, I'm W O Bentley, stood out in the crowd in both the open and the stake. Rachael Stokes, trainer.

PONIES

Joan Richardson guided her precious pony Smart Charlie to wins in both the open road pony class and the open stake. Greg Carstens, trainer. DF Tres Chic, with owner, Kendall Weber wore the blue in both the road pony under saddle class and the stake. Tara Weber, trainer. Seamair's Dear Admiral topped the open harness pony class with Lance Bennett on the lines for Scott Hickey. Heartland King Of Kings with owner, Joanne Weiner, wore the pleasure driving pony championship ribbon. Heartland Sugar And Spice, with owner Annette Puchta, was the judge's choice in the open class. Ann Wolfe-Miller, trainer.

FRIESIANS

The National Champion, Otto, owned by Friesian Focus, was magnificent winning the saddle seat park open, the championship and the park harness class with Lance Bennett guiding him. Again, it was Lance in the spotlight, this time with Wodan taking the saddle seat pleasure open and stake for Friesian Focus. Winze Fan Wyns, with Lance, took the walk/trot pleasure open and championship for Friesian Focus. Feije, with Richard Jarrell topped the walk/trot pleasure amateur championship. Cassandra Young-Sapia offered a terrific catch ride on Upt Fan Panhuys for Black Sterling Friesians, to win the amateur walk/trot pleasure class. Koreen Greenberg guided Keimpe Van Rijnwoude to the top honors in the amateur saddle seat pleasure open and stake. Lance Bennett trainer. Crusader, with Tom Sofra for Black Horse Valley Ranch won the trophies in the pleasure driving open and championship.

OPEN CLASSES

The English pleasure classes were filled with nice horses. Juliette Prowse, Betsy and Robb Wallen with Austen Wallen.

a National Show Horse, with Robb Wallen up, took home the blue in the large championship for Charles and Judy Jones. Keimpe Van Rijnwoude, a Friesian with owner Koreen Greenberg up, topped the open class.

In pleasure driving, Robb Wallen guided Phi Beta Kappah, another National Show Horse, to the honors in the championship for Charles and Judy Jones. Nani Barnes guided a stunning newcomer to the West Coast, The Last Town, owned by Kay March, to a win in the pleasure driving qualifying class.

Ewout VD offered a perfect performance to take the western pleasure championship with owner Janna Goldman. Festival Rock N Roll was the western pleasure open winner with owner, Jacob Arnold.

In the 11 and under walk & trot classes, Ethan Feiber guided his beautiful new acquisition, WC CH A Magic Spell, to wins in the equitation class and stake and the walk/trot pleasure class. Jennifer Dixon, trainer. Doeke H with Jackson Cripe topped the pleasure championship. Lance Bennett, trainer.

EQUITATION

Emily Chapman dominated the equitation scene with precise rides. She went home with blues in the 17 and under class, the stake and the UPHA Challenge Cup class. Emily is trained by Michele McVey. Angie Berning, trained by Anne Speck, topped the 13 and under class. Kendall Weber was the adult equitation star, taking both the open and the stake.
