Judges: Gary Garone, Richmond, New Hampshire
Manager: Mike Gallaway
Ringmaster: Juan Stuckey

The 2007 Fall Classic Horse Show welcomed all who attended with a wonderful pizza party on Wednesday evening to kick off a rip roarin' show. No empty stalls and a great crowd served as a sign that this regional championship was going to shake the coliseum. Judge Gary Garone was ready to make some champions with the fine set of Saddlebred, Hackney and Friesian horses that brilliantly took to the rail. During the break, the announcer had some fun Friday night getting the crowd pumped with playing some vintage dance music. As the YMCA song flowed through the speakers the audience jumped up and did the arm motions, followed by the chicken dance. The crowd was wild when the classes resumed after the break and really cheered the horses on.

On Saturday afternoon, a fine exhibition and competition "calling all canines dog show" was held during the lunch break along with an ice cream social that featured Linda Seiders' wonderful pies. Later that night a wonderful retirement party for CH Harlem's Special Music was held on Saturday night. In 2002, this fine grey Saddlebred gelding became loved and owned by the Hayden family, and trained by Dick Boettcher Stables. He was undefeated in 2004. Now, with all the treats in the world, he gets to retire with the greenest of green pastures to the Hayden family home.

Five-Gaited

The five-gaited amateur division was exciting this year. The always-captivating Full Spectrum with Martha Keck in the irons, trotted high across the arena as the gate opened. Judge Gary Garone picked this fancy duo for the top spot two times; Full Spectrum carried the roses back to Dick Boettcher Stables. Gail Hooker guided the athletic Undulata Prophet to the reserve championship to wrap up the top honors. Singing Hills Stable sent in a stylish entry in the UPHA Three-Year-Old Five-Gaited Classic with Annalize van der Walt aboard My Balalaika to take home the blue. Don Deardorff racked She's Quite A Honey to the winner's circle for the open class, with Don Mace and the radiant Co-Star Of Zion for second. Back for the open championship, Walterway's Love Me Forever and Gene van der Walt took the victory pass. The super cute Doubletrees Pretty N'Pink and Tasha Kalke strutted their stuff for a victory pass in the limit stake from Deardorff Stable. Rocket Rip City and Margo Hepner-Hart was second. The junior exhibitor stake was claimed by Leanna Hanika and talented Harlem's Supreme Luck. Hero's In Command and Shelah Franklin hit center ring to win the junior/novice stake, followed by Jennifer Dixon aboard Hurricane Dave.

The five-gaited show pleasure division had eight horses enter the ring. Martha Keck and the snazzy upright Hella Good took both the open and the stake. In the qualifier, with the pretty long tail, Doubletrees Caper Style and Karen Lachman from Deardorff Stable took the red. Back in the stake the tables were turned and CH Forever Aptom with Gail Hooker in the irons from Encinitas, Calif., took home the second top spot in the stake. Archie Hurst and I Told You So Of Silver Oaks took the victory rail in the five-gaited country pleasure open but back for the stake Callaway's Jenny Any Dots and Ashley Blu made the victory pass from Beaverton, Ore.

Three-Gaited

The sensational Spurwing's High N Mighty and Eduardo Castilleo sent shivers through the crowd as they entered the ring. This fancy young horse claimed the UPHA Three-Year-Old Three-Gaited Classic followed by London's Time For Tea with Kimberly Erickson in the irons. The very prestigious A Genesis and Annalize van der Walt won both the qualifier in the junior/novice stake, dancing into second place was Matchbox's Glass Slipper and Don Mace. Archie Hurst guided the pretty dark mare Dresden Queen to the open stake, with Black Knight On Broadway and Brenda Corbett in for reserve. The three-gaited two-year-old class had a really fancy filly Hyacinth Bouquet with Annalize van der Walt in the irons for Singing Hill's Stable. Susan Valley Chen rode for both top spots in the amateur division with the polished CH Like Sunshine.

Fine Harness

The always-lovely Sugar Pine, guided by Grace Arnold took the fine harness amateur stake under the direction of Dick Boettcher. Lisa Lesch and Kourageous Kat Of Silver Oaks glided down the rail to the open stake followed by Mel Lueck and Summer Of Forty Two. The junior/novice stake was claimed by Don Mace and the engaging Blessed Beginning, with So Posh and Ed Morris for reserve.

Park and Park Pleasure

The park horse division had some shinning stars this year. The enamoring E Ticket and Edward Morris shook the coliseum as they trotted in high winning both the open and the stake from Deer Park, Wash. Reserve in the stake went to the dynamic Attache's Born To Boogie with Archie Hurst in the irons. Catherine Gallo guided her glamorous new horse Intoxicating Heir to the park amateur open and the stake from Arcuri Stables. The junior park class had a very attractive mare claim the stake. Evangelical and Lynn Robertson took home the roses to RoDo Farm in Gales Creek, Ore. Reserve in the class went to Haven's Ka-Boom with Pam Heiman in the irons.

The park pleasure junior horse class was bigger this year with 11 entries in the qualifier. The absolutely gorgeous black filly Pinnacle's Midnight Event glistened into the coliseum with grace and style. Eduardo Castilleo rode this young mare to both wins for proud owner Jill Anthony. David Becker aboard the pleasing Unchained headed to center ring for reserve in the stake from Fresno, Calif. For the older horses, the park pleasure stake was won by Red Zone and Vanessa Hamm from Whispering Winds Farm. Imagine The Dream from Deardorff Stable was reserve in the stake for Karen Lachman. The UPHA Park Pleasure Three-Year-Old Classic had six entries. The classy Buttoned Down owned by Mary McClellan Williams from Dick Boettcher Stable took to the victory rail with the blue ribbon. A very intriguing youngster, Capote, and trainer Terre Phillips from Emberwood Stables, exited the ring with the red ribbon.

Show Pleasure

Back from the win in Louisville, CH French Silk Stockings and the very delighted Debbie Tomin took to center ring for another set of roses in the show pleasure adult classes. The beautiful Doubletrees Royal Request and Leslie Pierce were second in the qualifier, but the tables were turned and New York Imagination with Catherine O'Donnell up, were reserve in the show pleasure stake. In the junior exhibitor show pleasure classes Captain Jack and Samantha McWade from Alberta Canada claimed the qualifier, but back for the stake the pretty black Callaway's Party Time and Sami Bishop carried the roses home to Rancho Santa Fe, Calif.

The wonderful Heir Rage SRS and Sherry McCauley drove to win both classes this year under the direction of Ed Morris. Reserve in the stake was Sacajawea Charbonneau with Phyllis Hawkins at the whip from Chowchilla, Calif.

Country Pleasure

The stunning duo from Far Niente Stables, Will Roger's Show Girl and Demi Ruffatto, completed their last year together in the junior exhibitor division with an undefeated season claiming both classes to wrap up a great career. Doubletrees Twenty One Guns and Chelsea Copenhaver followed with reserve in the stake, also finishing a superb last year in the junior division. Déjà vu Of Valley View and Lauren Milner won the country pleasure adult qualifier. Back for the stake, the sweet Endolane Queen and Tom McClellan took top honors.

Deborah Perry drove the well-mannered Yachting Class to the country pleasure driving stake. The very handsome Hopeful's Sensation and James Yerion at the lines took the second top spot in the open qualifier, but back for the stake it was the delightful Kommotion Of Silver Oaks and Gary Gustafson.

The western pleasure classes are getting bigger and better every year. This year the western country pleasure open and stake had a new winner. The very handsome Mr. Freckle Face, owned by the Hayden Family, took both classes under the direction of Dana Paparo. Karen McConnell steered this chestnut gelding into the winner's circle. The sterling colored Bacardi Silver and Laura Berg jogged into the spotlight for the second top spot from Ed Morris Stable. Chelsea Copenhaver was aboard the versatile gelding Doubletrees Twenty One Guns to win the junior exhibitor class and the Saddle & Bridle Shatner class under the direction of Lyla Hunt.

In the hunter division, Tigerluv Of Silver Oaks with Holly Bahr captured the wins in Saddle & Bridle's Hunter Seat Classic and the pleasure stake. Keylijah trotted to the reserve spot guided by Kimberly Erickson.

Futurity

The NWSA Three-Gaited Two-Year-Old Futurity had a good group of horses this year. Oh Good Knight and Don Mace took top honors for owner Arlene Bahr, with Harlem's King Of Music and Allison Deardorff from Molalla, Ore., for the red. London's Time For Tea posed for the win with rider Kimberly Erickson in the NWSA Three-Gaited Three-Year-Old Futurity.

Lisa Lesch at the whip with Visari rolled in for the blue to claim the NWSA Fine Harness Two-Year-Old Futurity. The talented Je Ne Sais Quoi trotted high to the victory for owner Emily Boring, steering in for second Spot My Excitement and Lisa Lesch. The Five-Gaited Three-Year-Old Futurity had a bright entry. Beyond Evolution entered the winner's circle with Ed Morris for Ann-Marie Schurra. Second went to Miss Belagio and Lisa Lesch. Allison Deardorff and Doubletrees Foxglove took home the blue in the Park Pleasure Three-Year-Old Futurity and A Spot For Tea and Lisa Lesch came in for the red.

The halter futurities always attract attention; spectators enjoy coming to see the upcoming stars strut their stuff. The first four place came from Deardorff Stable in the weanling fillies class, Doubletrees Very Fancy sired by Avant took the number one position followed by Doubletrees April In Paris. Back for the weanling championship Doubletrees Very Fancy entered the winner's circle again to wear the roses. The reserve champion, also sired by Avant, was the very refined colt Doubletrees Nirvana. The yearlings filled with talent trotted nicely into the ring. Don Mace led the upright black colt Knight Time Revival owned by Kit Calafato to the blue in the open and then back to claim the championship. Doubletrees Divine Design snapped a fancy picture in the yearling fillies and Don Deardorff led her to the reserve overall championship for Deardorff Stable. The two-year-old futurity had a big black winner The Knight's Reflection owned by Kit Calafato and well presented by Don Mace with the attractive reserve champion Harlem's King Of Music owned by Muriel Pederson from Deardorff Stable.

In the NWSA weanling amateur futurity Fraenkel by SA Dorian Warriors Song took the blue home with owner Lynn Robertson. The cute black filly Pinnacle's Party Girl and Peggy Kelber were second in the class. Alivia, sired by Avant, wore the tricolored roses home for proud owner Rhea Turner in the yearling amateur futurity. For the two-year-olds, Lavash and Lynn Robertson from RoDo Farm brought home the top honors.

Roadster and Hackney Pony

Run Forrest Run flew down the victory rail in the roadster to bike open and the amateur class with Ben Lachman at the lines from Deardorff Stable. Back for the stake, Lil Town Flirt turned it up and took the stake for owner Harry Chapman. The single roadster pony claimed all three classes with the speedy Make Way For Mabelle for owner Dorothy Rodney.

The high stepping blonde pony Heartland Newsmaker took both wins with Bobbie Anne Welch at the lines, from Dick Boettcher Stable. Seamair's Winterfest and Janet Overstreet drove for the blue and the stake under the direction of David Becker. Truly A Masterpiece claimed both wins in the single hackney harness pony division with Don Deardorff at the lines for Colleen Gadbois.

Equitation

Camille Barkman very poised and beautiful, claimed the USEF Saddle Seat Medal 17 and Under class with her handsome necky gelding Stand Up Guy under the direction of Dana Paparo. The saddle seat championship had nine riders, and Judge Garone asked the top riders to perform the pattern. Samantha McWade, aboard Captain Jack, scored the blue followed by Paige Copenhaver and Doubletrees Time Squared for reserve. The 13 and under class had a very elegant young rider, Brienne Miller with Legacy Of Glory to take home the pretty blue ribbon. Ethan Faber and CH Java Sea entered center ring claiming the top spot in the 10 and under class followed by Erica Silbernagel and Doubletrees Avalanche. The UPHA Challenge Cup 17 and under had seven entries. Heavenly Country Fire with the excellent rider Monique Hetu took to the victory rail with Kimberly Erickson and London Times for second. The very dedicated Paige Copenhaver scored the top spot in the 17 and under pleasure equitation class; second place went to Nicole Sidebotham with Déjà vu Of Valley View. The five-gaited equitation class is a neat class to watch, Katie McKnight aboard Doubletrees Top Gun hit center ring for the blue with Julie Streitfeld and Paasche Of Silver Oaks for second.

Friesian

Brigitte Scholl, aboard the big black high-stepping Glor van de Bist for owner Dana Leavitt, claimed three classes including the Friesian English pleasure open and the stake. Driving all the way up from California, Monarch Stables presented this big steed with class and style. Riding the fluid Ferdinand van Gowozate to the English pleasure junior/amateur open and the stake was Chaleen DeStephano from Court Stables. Jelte and Cathy Anderson took the second top spot in both classes. In the Friesian pleasure driving division Charles Court guided this fine champion Ferdinand van Gowozate to both wins.
