

Congratulations...to Toni Nastali of Springside Stables in Downers Grove, Ill., on her return to ownership of a Hackney roadster pony. Toni recently sold her several times World's Champion Heartland Victory Maker to the Ververelli Family with Mike and Jessie Richardson as agents. Toni then acquired the neat road pony Heartland Most Wanted from the estate of Jane Mueller and via the estate's agent, Larry Bacon. Both Victory Maker and now Most Wanted were and will be trained by Rich and Maureen Lydon Campbell from Majestic Oaks Farm. At his first show under Springside's ownership, Most Wanted was the Roadster Pony Grand Champion with Maureen Lydon Campbell presenting. Toni also selected the awesome Junior Hackney pony, Heartland Rough and Ready, from Darrell and Sandra Kolkman's Heartland Stables. Maureen Lydon Campbell presented this nice youngster to these Louisville titles. The Campbells represented Toni and all parties in these transactions.

...Lynda and Andy Freseth are pleased to report that she and Andy sold Jeff and Pamela Slater's pretty three-gaited mare CH Tantalize Me LCC, who was shown by their daughter McKenna to many good wins over the last few years. Tantalize Me (aka "Gracie") had also been shown by the Slater's son, Andrew to a World's Championship title a few years ago. The lucky new little girl to acquire Gracie is Anna Grace Whitworth whose mother Tammy purchased the horse for her to show under the direction of Christy Absher Johnson of Deerfield Stables.

...Connie MacQueen of Elmhurst, Ill., is very excited about her recent purchase of the new youngster Hillcroft Rare Fortune, who was a recent Reserve World Champion for former owner Bill Beckley and then trained and shown by Smith Lilly. Scott and Carol Matton are the new trainers of this neat young horse who now joins DLF's Last Investment ("Karma") in the MacQueen's collection of nice American Saddlebreds.

...Lynn Durant tells of the recent selection of Platinum's Moon Over Pluto, who is by Belle Reve's Renaissance Man and out of CH Cary's Moonraker and was recently purchased during the World's Championship Horse Show by the Durants' customers

FOAL WATCH: Two babies sired by Undulata's Nutcracker. (1) This baby is out of Epiphany and (2) this baby is out of CH Majolica.

Mary and Susan Narko of Lemont, Ill. This nice horse has had considerable success with Smith Lilly presenting in the three- and four-year-old Fine Harness divisions for former owners, Platinum Stock Farm. Plans are for this newcomer to Bell View Acres to be the Show Pleasure mount for Susan Narko in 2010.

...Stephanie Peterson of Eden Prairie, Minn., has sold her neat young Junior Three-Gaited mare Ro and Me's Lady Godiva, who was trained for her by Brian Chappell. Raymond and Lillian Shively selected this four-year-old mare by Trust Fund for one of their customers and she was shown shortly after the purchase by Todd Miles to a victory in the Junior Three-Gaited division at the 2009 World's Championship Horse Show.

...to Sarah Shippy of Burnsville, Minn., on her acquisition of the pretty black three-year-old mare Mysterious Memories, by

1. Ann Jo Mosher and Janette Wanner. 2. Ann Jo Mosher, John Willis and Pam Stein-Farkas. 3. Florence Merkin, party host Gordon Odegard, and Sandra Shaw. 4. Lesley Kordecki, Diane Nyhammer, Gordon Odegard, and Sandra Shaw. 5. Sandra Shaw with daughters Teri Klint and Julie Shaw.

The Mystery Writer. Formerly owned by Dr. and Mrs. Alan Raun's Reedannland Farm in Cumming, Iowa and trained for them by Marengo, Ill., horsewoman Liz Kinney. The three-year-old won the UPHA Park Pleasure event at the recent Wisconsin Futurity and she was selected for Sarah to show by her trainer Jared Ratzloff of Cornerstone Stables in Prior Lake, Minn.

...to Jeff and Pamela Slater of Burr Ridge, Ill., on their selection of the multi-titled five-gaited gelding Fight Night, by WC Prize Contender, from Dr. and Mrs. Alan Raun's Reedannland Farm and trained for them by Louis Louw. The Slaters were represented in this purchase for their son, Andrew, by Larry Hodge of Kalarama Farm in Springfield, Ky.

...to Andrea Larson Dudkiewicz on her selection of the very handsome black yearling stud colt, Enough For Two (Forty Second Street x Jiffy Pop) who was the Yearling Colt winner and Yearling Grand Champion under the former ownership and handling of Jan McGlaughlin's Shale Hill Stables in Muncie, Ill. John Willis is the receiving trainer of this very handsome youngster.

...to Phil Meyer of Green Bay, Wisc., on his sale of the proven campaigner, Philosopher. Philosopher was selected by Cash Lovell, Jr., during a trip to the Midwest during the ASAW Summerfun Horse show where he won in the Country Pleasure division. Cash purchased the horse to re-sell to someone in his Cash Lovell Stables in Winston-Salem, N.C. Ginger Schintgen at DeEquus Stables in Cato, Wisc., represented Phil in this transaction.

...to Grace Allen, daughter of Liz Harding-Allen, who is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hal Harding (onetime owners of Riverside Farm in Neenah, Wisc., and who rode with Don Brockman). Grace is now the owner of the neat pleasure horse Son Of A Preacher Man, who was selected from Sandra Ledbetter Witter of Scottsdale, Ariz. The Durants at Bell View Acres represented all parties.

...Sheri Brandl and Sarah McClintock report that there has been some purchase activity within the barn at Equitate LLC in Oconomowoc, Wisc. Rob and Pat Schultz of Verona, Wisc., have selected the bay gaited entry, Karaoke, for their daughter Liz to show in addition to the handsome chestnut The Evangelist, who she has been showing the last several seasons in five-gaited pleasure. Karaoke was selected from Reedannland Farm with Dr. Alan Raun and Louis Louw representing the former owners, Paradise Farm in West Des Moines, Iowa. Also selected was the handsome youngster Hillcroft Sweet Kiss, who was formerly owned by Kim Karels Clements and husband, David, owners of Saddlebredweb. Billy Jarrell at Ainsley Farm represented the former owners in this transaction. The horse was selected by Sheri and Sarah for Lexie Friedrich to show in 2010. Equitate LLC also represented Melissa Cutting in her purchase of the 2009 ASHA Four-Year-Old Park Pleasure Sweepstakes Champion, Prime Time Player (sired by Pat McConnell's stallion, Hoops) for her son Zac to show in the new season ahead. Prime Time Player was shown to much success in the Junior Park Pleasure division in 2009 by his trainer and agent, Lisa Strickland of Marengo, Ill. Sheri and Sarah sold the proven pleasure gelding Royal Crest's Captivating Stone, who had belonged to Deborah and Lexie Friedrich, to Alex and Jeff Totoritis of Madison, Wisc. They sold the Cuttings pretty mare Radiant Revival, that Zac was a Reserve World's Champion with in the Walk and Trot division at Louisville this year to her new owners Brian and Wendy Harrison of Madison, Wisc., for their daughter, Monet to show in 2010. Also recently sold was the handsome and colorful pleasure gelding Majestic's Wingmaster, by Yorktown Magic, who had been owned by Elaine Richmond and shown by her granddaughter Grace Grabower. Cash Lovell, Jr., selected "Ryl" for one of his young riders from Cash Lovell Stables in Winston-Salem, N.C.

...to Dr. Morgan Wolin of Wolin Studios in Chicago, Ill., on the sale of her many-times champion three-gaited mare CH Audrey Hepburn. Audrey was purchased by Morgan as a just turned three-year-old after a winning debut for the young mare at the 1996 American Royal Horse Show where she won the Two-Year-Old Three-Gaited with Jeff Priebe aboard, then shown as Callaway's Wayward Lass. Morgan and Audrey were a winning combination for the last 12 show seasons and the mare was also campaigned by some of her trainers along the way to much success in the Open Three-Gaited division including a World's Championship title in 2002 in the 15.2 and Under division by Steve Joyce. Cash Lovell represented himself in the selection of Audrey Hepburn for one of his lucky young riders at Cash Lovell Stables in Winston-Salem, N.C. Chuck Herbert and Lisa Uhde at Cedarwood Farm represented Morgan in this sale.

...to longtime Saddlebred exhibitor and owner Jackie Erdmann Lopez, who has been showing in recent years in the OTR division at the Midwestern shows on her recent selection of Kalarama's High Point from previous owner Jacqueline Coffey of Elgin, Ill. Jackie Lopez had leased this nice horse for the season while CH Wild Harley was on the mend from an injury he sustained. She enjoyed the horse and she purchased him in fall of '09. She boards him at Kristen Schultz Erickson's Cedar Valley Farm in Delafield, Wisc.

...to Dr. Laura Sukowaty of New Berlin, Wisc., on her selection of the pretty three-year-old mare "Hopefully" (I'm A New Yorker x CH Lady Maya) that was shown by Kenny Smith in the three-year-old Fine Harness division earlier this season for former owners Charles Goodman and Barbara Manilow. Laura purchased this bay mare for her daughter, Bevan, to show under the direction of Terri Anne Ullman and Jimmy Orphanos at Winsome Farm Saddlebreds.

...to Amy Weiler of Crystal Lake, Ill., on the sale of her undefeated three-year-old Park Pleasure horse, Ro and Me's Satori (by Trust Fund) via her trainer/ agent Mayo Moctezuma to new owner Beth Brown, who purchased the mare for her daughter Aleia to show under the direction of Kathy and Gene Boggs, and Erin and Reese Richey at Cape Cod Farm.

...to Bridget Brennan on her selection of the nice young mare Royal Crest's Stone Art from Bruce and Rusty Rademann's Royal Crest Farm in Fond du Lac, Wisc. Todd Perkins at Centre Pointe Stables in Delano, Minn., was her agent and the young horse just won at the recent Oktoberfest Horse Show in Cannon Falls, Minn. Stone Art was sired by State Of The Art, a son of Longview's Supreme.

Bulletin Board...speedy recovery to Candy Young of Orland Park, Ill. Candy is a former member of the Midwest Saddle Horse contingency as the owner of the grand old campaigner Sultan's Katmandu. Candy underwent open heart surgery over this past summer as was told to me by her daughter, Amy. Candy was affiliated with Bob and Lorri Irwin's VIP Farm and then with Mike and Dale Arnston's Country Meadow Farm, where Katmandu remained until his passing a few years ago.

...congratulations to Jean and Jay Wood at Westwood Farm in Plato, Wisc., on word that the neat park and former World's Champion Fine Harness (three-year-old) mare, The Paper Princess JJW (Supreme Heir x Paper Heart) has acquired the necessary number of points in the ASHA's Saddlebred Record to be eligible for her "CH" status.

...speedy recovery to the precious pup (Cocker Spaniel) of Chris and Dave Varner, customers at Bob Jensen Stables (owners of the five-gaited pleasure horse, Callaway's Full Moon) who recently lost a leg to amputation.

...a job well done will be celebrated by the good folks at Centre Pointe Stables in Delano, Minn., with the close of the 2009 show season as Jeff and Diane Balagna report that their daughter, Brittany's many times champion three-gaited pony, CH Tip O' The Hat will be retired after the 2009 American Royal Horse Show. The Balagnas also are the owners of the neat gaited mare, Roja Rosa, selected earlier this year for Brittany from Kris and Bill Knight at Pleasantview Farm and of CH Wind Cruiser, a World's Champion in Show Pleasure, who is now being shown in the Country Pleasure division by Diane.

...news from Chicago native Kathe Andrews who grew up riding at Harmswood Stables in Morton Grove. Kathe recently (September 1st of this year) moved to Danville, Ky., from Santa Fe, N.M., to open her yoga/equitation and therapeutic yoga business. She moved her Morgan and Saddlebred lesson horses as well as a two-year-old filly by Sir William Robert. Over the years, Kathe has owned and shown many horses including the wonderful three gaited mare, CH Steel In Love.

The Horse Business Is a Social Beast...Gordon Odegard, a longtime member of the Hackney and Shetland Pony community and a frequent visitor to the American Saddlebred circles held a very nice informal soiree at his Rockford condominium during the recent UPHA Chapter 10 Horse Show in early October 2009. Many friends from the Midwestern circuit were in attendance.

Condolences...to Kim and Paige Guisfredi of Oak Brook Terrace, Ill., on the loss of the grand old campaigner, Chairman's Recruit. Affectionately known as "Crouton" by many, he was an avid campaigner in the walk and trot divisions, country pleasure and just an all around "good guy".

...to Judith Manning, a longtime customer of Mike and Pat Barry's Barry Stables in Oregon, Wisc., on the loss of her 23-year-old mare, Fairwinds Fallon. By Supreme LaRitz, Judy and Fallon were often competitors in the Midwest's Country Pleasure Five-Gaited division. Judy is also the owner of Kourageous Genius Supreme, who has done very well with in Country Pleasure Driving under the Barry's direction. This handsome bay is a full brother to World's Champion Equitation horse, Kalu's Can't Stop The Magic.

...to Penny and Amanda LeBlanc, former Midwestern show horse exhibitors, who recently relocated to Texas and making the transition all the more taxing was the unexpected loss of their show pleasure and equitation gelding, Born To Believe It ("Oliver") who was in training for the mother and daughter duo to show with Tom Thorpe and Bob Griffin's Northern Tradition Farm in Minooka, Ill. Amanda and Penny have now joined the forces at Milligan Stables in Plano, Texas since their move.

...to Pat Webber on the loss of her beloved country western pleasure horse, High Concept (aka "Boots"). Boots passed away at the age of 21, and though it had been seven years since the pair last showed on the midwestern circuit, their presence was missed and duly noted.

...to Joan Todd of Indianapolis, Ind., on the loss of her neat gelding Avanzare (aka "Zar"). Zar was 18 years of age at the time of his October 2009 passing due to colic. He was purchased by Joan as a five-year-old in 1996 after being campaigned and brought out by North Wind Stables (then in Richmond, Ill.) under the ownership of the late Ken Fezler. Marcia Scott, Ellen Lifson and Linda Porick were the first to show the gelding under the direction of Nealia McCracken and Mayo Moctezuma. He was later sold to Barbara Kyler who then in turn sold the horse to Todd for her early western and hunt horse. Joan enjoyed Zar for 13 years and he will be sorely missed at her Dream Acres Farm.

News From Cindy Lane O'Neal

Longtime Saddlebred trainer/exhibitor Cindy Lane O'Neal, is now taking a new turn in the horse industry — mounted drill team coaching and judging.

Next month, Cindy will travel to Lindale, Texas to attend the USEDA's judging clinics to become certified to judge competitions and attain her Drillmaster status for coaching teams.

Daughter, Olivia Boggs, who has had much success throughout the Southeast showing Saddlebreds, has been riding and competing with a team for almost two years now. Her team is coached by Mrs. Angela Dennis of Newnan, Ga. Cindy's team, the "Rockin' America" novice team, has only been together for nine weeks and recently competed at the Georgia Horse Council's drill team competition and came away with a second and third place in their very first time competing.

We definitely have drill-fever here, as the whole family participates in the practices and competitions!
